GOVERNMENT PLANS TO HARVEST SEAWEED

(Special to the Gazette.)
Washington, June 12.—Germany may secure from this war with her monopoly of the world's supply of potash to be counted among the things she has lost. The United States department of agriculture will have something definite to say on that point before the end of the summer, and after the completion of thoroughgoing experiments about to be undertaken with seaweed or kelp on the Pacific coast. That there are millions of tons of this kelp always available within the country's three-mile limit is known as a matter of course; that it is a 30 per cent potassium chloride is known because of chemical analysis of many samples. The thing that is to be determined by the experiment of this summer is whether the kelp can be harvested and the potash extracted at a cost that will make the operation profitable.

Dr. E. C. Brown, chief of the division of fertilizer resources of the department's bureau of soils, who is in charge of the experiment, is confident that the kelp will be profitable to produce and utilize to the full by-products of the kelp. If he is right, one of the chief difficulties of the American farmer will be done away with.

The government's experimental plant, now in course of construction, is in Summerland, Santa Barbara county, California. Congress has appropriated $50,000 for the work. This includes the cost of a curious craft, already built, which might be described as a huge seagoing mowing machine. It is equipped at the bow with great revolving knives that work on the principle of the blades of the mowing machine and cut the kelp plants from three to six feet below the surface of the water. The severed streamers of kelp are then taken up into the boat on a conveyor belt, at the top of which they are cut by other knives into six-foot lengths and then dropped into the hold of the vessel. The boat in use will contain 100 tons of wet kelp, thus harvested and cut, and she can make two trips a day when operating on a kelp field.

The weed is found growing in water to a depth of 100 feet. It is rooted on the bottom, grows to the surface, and then extends for hundreds of feet on the surface. It grows quickly after cutting, and can be cut four times a year like an alfalfa crop.

CHINA KEEPS SECRET NATIONAL GRAFT CASE

(By Associated Press)

Peking, June 13.—Progressive Chinese and the more advanced foreign newspapers in China denounce the arrest of Dr. Chen Chin-tao, the former Minister of Finance, as a political plot arranged to eliminate Dr. Chen Chin-tao from the cabinet and turn the finances of China over to some old-time Chinese, who will not object to having government funds used for political purposes without a strict accounting.

The charge of bribery made against the deposed Minister of Finance is based on an alleged attempt on the part of a number of merchants to corrupt him in connection with a concession to smelt small Chinese coins and convert them into ingots. The copper far more at present prices than the face of the coins. It is against the Chinese law to melt such coins. However, merchants desired to obtain a special concession from the government to engage in the reduction of coins to copper ingots.

Great secrecy has been thrown around the prosecution of Dr. Chen Chin-tao. He was denied foreign counsel, and was also denied native counsel. Bonds for his release were refused, in spite of the fact that many responsible Chinese were willing to become his sureties. He was locked in a special room with guards at the court, and held there beyond the reach of his family and friends.

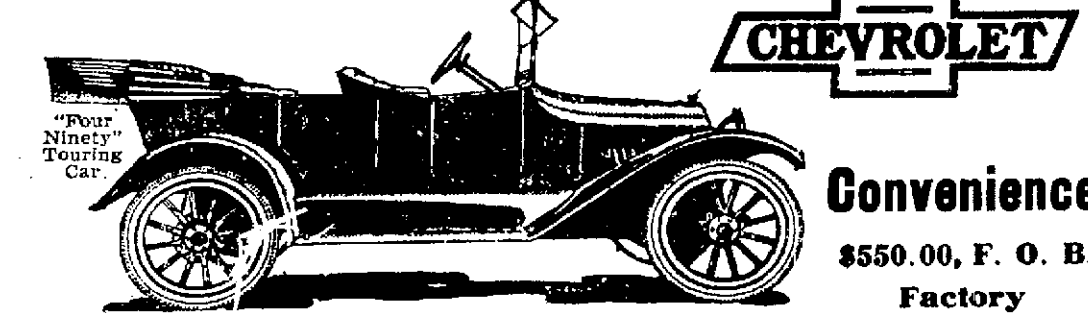

This treatment has been denounced by many Chinese papers as medieval and worthy of the tyranny of the old Manchu dynasty. Foreigners in China and newspapers under foreign control were almost unanimous in expressing their belief in Dr. Chen Chin-tao's innocence.

Repeated attempts have been made to force Dr. Chen Chin-tao out of office. Officials anxious to have him charged that he was partial to American interests, and made frequent efforts to displace him before they succeeded. He was a personal selection of President Li Yuan-hung for the Ministry of Finance, but had never been especially acceptable to Premier Tuan Chi-jun and other Chinese high in the government who have reactionary tendencies.

A mandate has been issued forbidding newspapers to make public any documents or statements having a bearing upon the bribery charges. In spite of this fact, many details of the case have leaked out. It is not charged that Dr. Chen Chin-tao personally received any money in connection with the proposed brass smelting syndicate. The charge is based on the statement of merchants that Dr. Chen Chin-tao had knowledge of an offer of $200,000 which they made to Yin Ju-lin, the vice-minister of finance, warrant for whose arrest has been issued. Yin Ju-lin fled before he was arrested.

The entire case against Dr. Chen Chin-tao apparently rests upon an attempt to make him responsible for the act of his vice-minister. Few of Dr. Chen's detractors charge that he received any of the money.

FINANCING WAR.

Great as may be the calls for money supplies, the present secretary of the treasury has more sources of revenue, larger and better supplies available and a better banking system for the immediate requirements of the government than any head of that department since the foundation of the government.

The revolution was begun without direct banking facilities. The first bank of the United States was no longer a federal institution when the war of 1812 was started on. The charter of the second bank lapsed long before the Mexican conflict. Our national banking system was not established for several years after 1863 and was not in working order until after the military campaign of 1864. The third bank of the United States in operation before the war of 1898. Even as late as 1898, the state of our monetary legislation in preparation for our brief war with Spain.

For the first time in our history we have gone to war with a monetary system adapted to meet almost any degree of expansion and apparently sufficient to meet any credit demand. For the first time in our history the treasury department has been in a position to meet in a practical manner the demands of the credit of a national government in times of peace and in times of war.

In a sense the financial history of the United States has been a record of the growth of the banking system. It is a record of the growth of the banking system. It is a record of the growth of the banking system. It is a record of the growth of the banking system.

With our present unexampled resources of money and capital wealth and an infinitely effective mode for their distribution it is the duty of Americans of all classes, rich and poor, to do their part with our money. It is the duty of Americans of all classes, rich and poor, to do their part with our money. It is the duty of Americans of all classes, rich and poor, to do their part with our money.

FLAG DAY.

When Betty Ross declared that the American flag was the best and the most beautiful thing in the world, she was not only a patriot but a philosopher. The flag is the symbol of our nation, and it is our duty to respect it and to love it.

THE SCHOOL GRADUATIONS.

To those with no children in the schools, commencement exercises don't seem to mean much. We look at them as pretty social and scholastic functions, where the girls look lovely in their festive gowns, the boys are brave with their caps and sashes, and there is a pleasing atmosphere of literary culture.

They mean far more than that. Here is a new reinforcement to community life. These young people have been nurtured by the ideals of history. They have learned something from human experience, and can identify themselves with the past that should be avoided. They have struggled with languages and mathematics and have acquired habits of industry and application.

Such an influx into our community means new force. It means broader minds to help solve civic and economic problems. If only all our boys and girls could at least have high school courses, how it would increase our national efficiency!

With several Janesville boys actually on the road to some of the various countries of the world at war with Germany, it is not likely that they will come to us. Perhaps we will realize that we are not alone in this world.

Our local militia unit is to go across the water and fight for the honor of the stars and stripes.

Every little bit helps. The man or woman who subscribes to the Liberty bond issue is doing their own individual part. Alas, too many people with wealth are not showing the patriotism that hundreds in more moderate circumstances have displayed. Too often the case, but just now it comes directly home to us all.

It is always peculiar that when a man sets in trouble with the police and is held into court he always seeks to keep the news from becoming public on account of some relative. While he is preparing for his entry into the court he never stops to think of this relative, but always afterwards. Afterthought is always twice as forceful as forethought.

Evidently that spring drive in Belgium is really amounting to something and the English have actually made up to the fact that they wish the glory of this war to go to the Anglo-Saxon race they must hasten to do something worth while before the United States actually gets into the conflict with armed troops.

Warm weather always brings thunder storms, so why worry? If we wish summer we must expect thunder and lightning, and if we want winter we must expect to run the furnace. Shovel snow and ice in winter and cut the lawn in summer appears to be the fate of mankind at present.

Rock county will be well represented on the firing line shortly when the various hospital units and the radio corps and state militia and marines and regular troops reach their positions across the "big pond."

When 10,000,000 of our young men went up and registered without asking Kaiser Bill's permission, that German must have begun to think that the Germans are slipping out of his hand a little.

And the elders who criticize the boys' July 4th doings are getting ready to demonstrate their patriotism on the holiday by tearing around the country thirty miles an hour in an automobile and scaring all the horses.

When you buy a Liberty bond you can get your money any time you want it. When you buy some other kind of bonds the other fellow has the money and you merely have a lithographed certificate to look at.

Feeling that there are too many automobiles on the road for public safety, a determined effort is being made every Sunday to smash up and get rid of a lot of them.

The people who attend the graduation exercises complain about the number and length of the essays, but just think how much more they know after they have heard them.

It does not follow that because a man can write a most intelligent column of garden hints that he can go out in his back yard and raise a garden.

So far none of the conscientious objectors to military service have shown any conscientious objections to remaining in the country that permits such wicked doings.

It is claimed that the United States is going to produce a new and powerful explosive, but the German spies will know about it before anyone else.

Will someone tell us why when your automobile begins to balk, it is never near any garage or repair shop, but always away off in some lonely place?

Some men seem to think that carrying some handsome silk flags on their automobiles is a good substitute for buying a Liberty bond.

The principal difference between a pacifist and a real man is that the latter is willing to fight with something besides his tongue.

The Germans haven't decided about that indemnity from America, whether to take it now or when they get it.

The censor always had a pull; Long years ago The shows were full.

(Translated from the Chinese.)

Looy Lee, most illustrious mayor of Peking, was taking his daily stroll through the strolling streets of Peking city.

Suddenly he stopped before a palace of moving pictures, a prehistoric type of amusement just then being revived in China.

A placard of many colors, he read, "Today, Charlie Chaplin, China's greatest comedian, in 'Fun in Rome'."

Will see with what frivolities my beloved subjects are amused, he thought. And he did wend his way into the place of recreation and did shed many a smile at the antics of Charlie Chaplin appearing in the picture in the costume of a citizen of Rome, a foreign city which was then dancing and drinking itself to a deserved oblivion.

Suddenly there came writing on the sheet, "When in Rome Do As the Romans Do."

"This will never do," thought Looy Lee. "Rome is fast declining, but it is still far too powerful to stir thusly."

And he caused the writing to be changed to "When in Rome Do as the Romans Do" in which harmless state it was handed down to posterity.

WHATCHAMA COLUMN.

Drug Stores.

A drug store is where druggists go after studying drugs for three years so they will know how to sell baseball bats and ice cream, chamomile and tooth paste, soap, cigars, candy and celluloid pacifiers.

Some drug stores consist of a back door and a prescription case. In Kansas all saloons are drug stores, but not all drug stores are saloons. There are honest druggists in Kansas. We mustn't judge Kansas by the men who compile the real estate prospectuses.

ON THE SPUR of the MOMENT

ROY E. MOULTON

THE SADDEST ONE.
Some days are dark and some are dear,
While some are fair and gold and blue,
And some are filled with joy and cheer,
And some are filled with rue.
On some we skip along the way
And smile a smile and hum a song,
But oh, the saddest is the day
When everything goes wrong.

From early morn till late at night
The little fox will rack his wits
To bring us every sort of blight,
And put us on the trip.
Until at last we sigh and say,
"Oh, what's the use? This is a day
When everything goes wrong!"

If we could tell the date of such,
Or know just when to look for it,
We wouldn't mind it half so much,
We wouldn't care a bit!
Between the covers we would stay
And never heed the blamed clock's gong.
And not get up at all the day
When everything goes wrong.

TODAY'S SNEER.
It's as natural for a Soak to Sponge
as it is for a Sponge to soak.

The Pessimist's Version.
Some Cheer and Joy must come to all,
And every day cannot be dreary.
Into each life some Bliss must fall.
Some days are bright and cheery!

Every man knows that he has better ideas and aspirations than people give him credit for.

The Teeth.
The teeth are used chiefly in chewing and at other times are of little use except to pick or smash. Teeth come and go and they usually come to a great deal of chewing about either. The babe yells with all its might when a tooth comes in and the adult does the same when a tooth comes out. Teeth are a sleeper period and so much because there are two kinds, upper and lower, out because one wouldn't care to mistake another's for one's own. The very young teethe on their rattle and the very old rattle their teeth. There have been some very famous teeth, some of which are still on exhibition in the larger museums and among the most famous here are those that for some years have been on exhibition by Mr. Roosevelt. The teeth have always been useful but they are especially valuable today at a time when most people would stare if they had to live on mashed potatoes.

Lots of heads are like Sponges and Swell a great deal when they Soak up a very little.
A lot of us had no idea where the Ozar was hiding, but it seems the Russian socialists did.

A Week With American Flying Men Battling Kaiser's Aeros On West Front

Paris, June 12.—Here, for the benefit of the ten thousand young Americans who are being enlisted in Uncle Sam's new airplane army over in the states, is the record for one week in May of the American fighting fliers now at the French front with the Lafayette Escadrille:

Monday—General of Blank Army calls at camp and congratulates the group of aerial combat in which the Lafayette Escadrille belongs for protection of his lines during the recent offensive northeast of Arras. No enemy planes crossed the line. Escadrille attacked two balloons and a number of enemy machines. Walter Lovell (Concord, Mass.) and Harold Willis (Boston) attacked two enemy machines deep in enemy lines. Entire patrol led by Captain Theraud (French officer in command of Escadrille) forced a German patrol of six machines back into their lines. Robert Rockwell (Cincinnati) attacked German machine from rear and was captured in turn. The Hun succeeded in riddling Rockwell's lower wing spurs on both sides, wing tip, control rods and undercarriage before Rockwell dove out of range.

Bags His Prey.

Tuesday—Lovell attacked Hun biplane early in the morning along Oise and drove same down in enemy lines. Willis (Haviland, Minneapolis) shot down a German plane. Lieutenant DeLaage (French officer second in command of Escadrille) and Willis attacked by Hun patrol of superior numbers and height but eluded same on account of superior speed. W. E. Dugan (Rochester, N. Y.) protected a photographic raid deep in the enemy lines.

Wednesday—American patrol made sorties under command of Lieut. DeLaage sweeping a front of forty miles deep into enemy territory, but no Hun machines sighted except in extreme distance. Escadrille complimented by gift to Rudolf Lufbery, New York city, of annual gold medal by Aero club of France, last year won by Navarre. Lufbery is an "Ace," his record being nine enemy machines officially brought down. The only other American pilot to receive this honor is Thursday—Lieut. DeLaage led Escadrille on aerial reconnaissance. E. Parsons (Springfield, Mass.) and Willis attack German machine at altitude of only 600 metres in enemy lines and force him to ground level. He probably got home. Enemy shells made both American machines do some fancy dodging. Afternoon found sky vacated by enemy but enemy guns made up by heavy shelling. Steven Bigelow (Boston) missed a shell by a very few feet at an altitude of more than 13,000 feet.

Friday—Escadrille reinforced by J. A. Lrezel, Philadelphia and C. H. Dolan, Boston. Willis had luck to find only enemy aeroplanes in the sky today, it was a large biplane regulating artillery fire over the British lines. Willis dove to the attack from above but the German saw him and hastened homeward dropping smoke signals for his artillery to get busy. The artillery did so. Half an hour later enemy returned with a fast monoplane despite fact that Willis ordered fight, but enemies changed their minds but signalled to their artillery which gave the American flier a very hot five minutes crossing their lines.

Prefers to Return.

Saturday—Dudley Hill, Peekskill, N. Y., arrived from America to join Escadrille despite fact that authorities granted him two months sick leave in America following an operation for appendicitis in New York. He preferred to return to the front. Lovell, Parsons and Rockwell were sent in pursuit of three Huns who crossed French lines and chased ten miles back into enemy territory before giving up the chase.

Sunday—Entire Escadrille motored in morning to the grave of James MacConnell near the lines and placed flowers and flags. Passing French soldiers had carried wreaths, a red cross and remains of MacConnell's machine gun and plane on the grave.

Afternoon—Only one enemy machine was encountered by patrol. He took to his "heels" before he could be reached. Escadrille busied itself dropping 10,000 copies of President Wilson's proclamation deep in enemy territory from St. Quentin nearly to Rheims. Enemy gunners showed their pleasure at this procedure by vigorously shelling the Americans.

LIKENESSES OF PAST PRESIDENTS TO GRACE BONDS

Likenesses of presidents from Washington to McKinley will grace the new Liberty bonds, which will be engraved in blue, green, orange, red, brown, olive and carmine, according to designations. Designs of the bonds have been completed and the bureau of engraving and printing is working day and night turning them off in presses by the thousands. Portraits and colors of the bonds will be as follows:

Denom.	Portrait.	Color
$100	Jefferson	Blue
$100	Jackson	Blue
$500	Washington	Orange
$1,000	Lincoln	Carmine
$5,000	Monroe	Green
$10,000	Cleveland	Blue
$50,000	McKinley	Carmine
$100,000	Grant	Orange

On the right side of each bond there will appear the vignette of Barthold's statue of liberty in New York harbor; on the left side the portrait of one of the presidents. Engraving on the back of coupon bonds will show on the right the vignette of the goddess of freedom, from Crawford's figure on the dome of the United States capitol, and on the left an ornamental panel with an eagle in the center.

RED CROSS BENEFIT AT APOLLO TUESDAY

Entire Proceeds of the Performance to Be Turned Over to the Local Chapter.

For the purpose of swelling the funds of the local chapter of the Red Cross society the Apollo theatre will give a benefit performance next Tuesday afternoon and evening. All the proceeds of the performances will be turned over to the Red Cross society. The picture to be exhibited is "The Vicar of Wakefield," a seven reel feature which comes to Janesville with the highest recommendations from all over the country.

Tickets are on sale at the Red Cross office in the Commercial club, and it is the hope of the chapter officers that a large advance sale will insure good profits for the society. Every member of the Red Cross is not only expected to buy a ticket, but is urged to aid in the sale.

Announcement has also been made that besides the feature picture slugs have been obtained and the show will include this added musical entertainment.

Whitewater News

Whitewater, June 12.—The Social Auxiliary were entertained Monday evening at the home of Miss Olive Dutcher. They enjoyed a very pleasant evening, consisting of music and different stunts, followed by a waltz. A collection of articles from China, sent by Miss Maybelle Thompson to Miss Marie Sankerson, was exhibited. Miss Thompson will be remembered by many Whitewater people. She was a graduate of the normal school and is now teaching in a normal school in China.

Mrs. Henry Holmes returned Sunday from Beloit, where she has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Fred Niquet, and family.

Mrs. Ed. Chesbro of Janesville was a guest yesterday of Mrs. Glen Taylor. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lucas of Xenia, Ohio, have been visiting this week at the home of Mrs. Mary Crum.

Miss Nellie Williams of Richland Center is here visiting her sister, Mrs. R. H. Dixon, and Mrs. H. C. Humphrey.

RED CROSS BRANCH AT EDGERTON ACTIVE

Edgerton, July 12.—At a meeting of the executive committee of the local Red Cross organization held last evening at the library, committees were appointed to take in charge certain departments of work which of necessity must be done.

This is a time which demands that no "slackers" shall be in evidence in any affair which touches any phase of the war, or of preparation for war. The members of the committee as indicated below are enlisted in a cause that which there is no worthier.

In their work they will anticipate nothing but the most loyal response from those whom it will be their duty to approach. That they are not "slackers" is shown by their membership on the committees. That there are no "slackers" in Edgerton or its vicinity will be proven by the response which will be made to the endeavors of the committees.

The committees are composed as follows:

Finance committee—T. B. Earle, H. McIntosh, D. P. Devine, August Ratzlaff, W. F. Mabbett, H. Johnson.

Committee on hospital supplies—Mrs. J. Kelley, Mrs. G. G. Biederman, Mrs. O. G. Hanson, Mrs. D. W. Clarke, Mrs. George O. Gordon, Miss Winnie Quigley, Mrs. W. Schrupp.

Membership committee—Rev. Linnevoild, Rev. Brandt, Rev. Spillman, Rev. Hooton, Rev. Harlin, Mamie Johnson, Mrs. B. E. Ellinger, Mrs. D. J. Willson, Mrs. Paul Geedy, Mrs. E. S. Hatch, Mrs. Will McIntosh, D. P. Devine, Mrs. J. Shaw, A. McIntosh, Charles Bowen, J. Pearson, Mrs. Fred Sherman, A. Alder, L. Wood, H. M. Hammond, Mrs. J. Merrill, Fred Sher-

News Notes from Movieland

—BY DAISY DEAN—

One of the brightest young players with the Fox forces is Wanda Petit, who made her reputation in "The Dancer" and "The Broadway Sport." She bids fair to win as large a place in the hearts of film fans as some of the better known stars. She will have an important role in a big William Farnum picture now in production and as yet unnamed.

ROMANCE FIRST

"The public will always prefer even poor romance to good realism," says Brian Hooker in a critical prophecy in the Century. This critic and librettist says that the trend of moving pictures will, in his judgment, be toward a better development of the melodramatic and adventurous aspects.

They will be romantic in the way Dickens made London romantic, or as O. Henry pictured New York in a modern setting.

"Romantic material in moving pictures," he says, "calls for the utmost realism of treatment. The moving picture compels our pleasure in the unfamiliar only by the most meticulous actuality of detail."

"Always the story must be told in action. Musically to comment upon the action, seek to force the emotional color upon the watchers, is to enter vain competition with opera, and to defeat its own use by distracting that attention which its office is to concentrate."

"Likewise the position of sheer pictorial art in the moving pictures is precisely analogous to that of sheer verbal art in literature; it is the style, not the substance."

As such, whatever it adds of beauty or of emphasis to the general effect will be so much clear gain provided it remains secondary to the action."

MOVIES ARE GOING UP

John R. Freuler, president of a film company, is authority for the statement that along with milk, bread and potatoes the movies are going up. Says Mr. Freuler: "There are only 16,000 picture theaters in the United States today. Their earnings must support all of the vast studios and the pretentious production which the public taste today demands. The motion picture is sold to the public too cheaply now. It is sure to cost more. The experience of picture enterprises in England, Australia, and France shows prices must go up, and that with this accomplished pictures can expect a fair prosperity through a period of war."

Bessie Love sallied forth one day last week and defiantly purchased nine hats. Consequently she has to arise a half hour earlier each morning in order to decide which one she will wear to the studio that day. The woman simply doesn't care what happens to her.

A. A. SHOULD KEEP HEAD ABOVE WATER

New York, June 13.—The American association, called the strongest minor league in the country, should have thought it over pretty carefully before standing sponsor for the statement that unless things changed quickly it would have to close its gates. It recently was reported in New York and elsewhere that all arrangements had been made to end the season, disband the clubs and wait for another year. To have closed the gates in May would have been disastrous—not only for the present year, but for succeeding seasons. The work of years would have been wiped out. Regardless of the fact that protection may have been granted by the national association, outside owners would have started something in these cities, and doubtless are laying plans now to grab off these excellent baseball towns if the opportunity presents itself. President Thayer committed a grave error, in the opinion of many persons, when he dropped four of the eight umpires with which he started the season. One well known eastern baseball man, at least, pleaded with Thayer not to endanger the fairness of ball games in the association by making one man handle all decisions. Thayer maintained it was to cut expenses, but one conservative umpire, a veteran in the harness, recently declared that economy practiced along this line is the worst sort. "It is impossible," he said, "for one man to get all over the field. Imagine a double play, one man out at second base and the other at the home plate. It's killing for a man to plunge all over the field in a free-hitting contest. Thayer should have taken some other step."

Hickey's faint heart is winning a spate of criticism in the great city. His statements have been pessimistic in the extreme. If the association deems it wise to stop it is safe to say the declaration of this fact will influence many smaller organizations to take the step.

Southern league experts say there are two first sackers who should go higher after this season. One is Dolvis of Mobile and the other is Gordon of Little Rock. The only weakness Gougeon had was his inability to hit, but this year he seems to have found a hitting edge and is smashing the ball. Gougeon was in the three-hundred last year, also seems able to hit.

KILBANE THE CAUSE OF WELSH'S DEFEAT

The terrific beating doled out to Freddie Welsh when he met Johnny Kilbane in New York probably is as much responsible as anything for the fact that Benny Leonard is now lightweight champion of the world. Jimmy Dunn believes it. Kilbane is certain of it, and more than one follower of the game is musing why Welsh was beaten. The fact is, however, that Welsh was faster in his blocking and had more speed when he started with Kilbane than when he met the New York lightweight. Kilbane hit Welsh everywhere except right on the spot that Welsh always had kept covered until he met Leonard. If Kilbane had been given the same opportunity for victory that presented itself to Leonard he probably would be wearing a crown on each angle of his curly locks. "The only thing I am sorry for," Kilbane declared after he had been Champion Welsh uncrowned, "is that I wasn't in there instead of Leonard. I don't want to take any credit from Leonard. He's a grand little scrapper. But certainly believe I would have finished Welsh quicker than he did. I started Welsh to outlive and Leonard finished the trick."

Dunn declares Kilbane a better workman in the ring than Leonard. Kilbane is a one-punch knockout, he declared, "and Leonard is not." If Kilbane had been in the ring with Welsh the night he lost the championship instead of Leonard, you wouldn't be hearing any arguments as to whether or not the referee erred in not counting over Welsh. Mr. Welsh would have been on the floor and he would not have been landed on his corner if Johnny had landed on his head. Believe me, that's right. If you don't believe Kilbane hits that hard you might ask George Charny.

The argument over which of these champions is the more sudden finisher and whether one is really so much better than the other probably will soon be settled, for arrangements are being made to bring them together. The match probably will be pulled off July 4th, either in Ohio or New York.

The rise of Pug Griffin, Lincoln's sensational first sacker, is one of the most remarkable in baseball. He was picked up off the lots to start the season when Ray Chandler, was in the last place game prior to the opening of the season. He started with a rush and kept it up so that Schmandt never got a chance to get back on the bag. Now he is a finished player, but he has murdered Western league pitching from the day he broke in.

Joe Dugan, the Holy Cross star, is to report to Connie Mack at the close of the college season. Dugan was with the New Haven Colonials last season. Like Jack Barry and Billy Kopf, who have played in Mack's infield, Dugan is a Connecticut boy and a collegian.

Ping Bodie is playing a fine game for the Athletics and is daily giving convincing evidence that he belongs in the major league. He might have been in the major league during the time he spent in the Coast league after leaving the White Sox.

The recent action of the national commission calls to mind the fact that President Ebbets of the Brooklyn club a year ago suggested that the batter be awarded his base if a pitcher tried to beat him. The objection then was that no one could determine if the pitcher's throw was intended to hit the batter. The question of intent is still the big problem in taking action, it seems.

Cap William Neal, Pittsburgh business manager and scout, who made the deal for Jake Pitter, declared the Pirates had a second Johnny Evers. The recruit Neal looked Pitter over last year and was favorably impressed with him, but for a variety of reasons did not close a deal and he had talked Pitter from that time on until he finally succeeded in getting Barney Dreyfuss to make the purchase.

TO OFFER TRAINING COURSE FOR NURSES TO FILL WAR NEEDS

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., June 13.—Wisconsin is going to give her young women an opportunity to show their patriotism by accepting training as health aids and attendants of the sick during the war. So many trained and registered nurses will be needed at the front and in the concentration camps that the care of the sick at home will become a problem, and in working out a program to handle this situation the State Council of Defense has decided to call into service a reserve corps.

This work in Wisconsin will be under the general supervision of the State Council of Defense through a special committee consisting of Dr. J. S. Evans, Mrs. H. H. Morgan and J. E. D. Mack. The active work will be carried on by the medical section, which is affiliated with the National and State Councils of Defense. Dr. Edward Evans of La Crosse is chairman of this section; Dr. J. S. Evans of Madison is vice chairman, and Dr. Rock Sleyster of Waupun is secretary. The other members are: E. E. Dearholt, Milwaukee; J. L. Brown, Milwaukee; J. R. McDill, Milwaukee; E. J. Barrett, Sheboygan; F. Gregory Connel, Oshkosh; J. M. Dodd, Ashland; J. L. Bates, Milwaukee; C. H. Dearholt, Madison; R. H. Jackson, Madison; W. T. Scales, Sparta; L. P. Jernigan, Milwaukee; C. R. Bardeen, Madison; G. E. Seaman, Milwaukee; C. E. Dearholt, Milwaukee; J. W. Fry, Milwaukee; G. A. Harlow, Milwaukee; and C. E. Banks, Milwaukee.

The legislature has made an appropriation for the training of six young women in the care of the sick, and Governor Philipp has announced his intention, through private subscriptions, to increase that fund so that at least two hundred young women may be trained within a year. A central committee consisting of Dr. Louis Wardfield, Miss Mabel Bradshaw and Miss Stella S. Matthews of Milwaukee has been appointed to supervise the selection and instruction of these young women.

This committee has decided that the first thirty girls will be trained at the Milwaukee County Hospital, and that as soon as the number of applications accepted is sufficient to begin the course elsewhere, other hospitals will be called upon to accept students. The organization of this body of young women will not make them registered or graduate nurses. The women working in that field, however, will be called upon to help in many cases to volunteer for service and many of them may be sent to the front. At this time an effort is being made to interest nurses in the Red Cross work for Wisconsin must send her quota of women to the war the same as must be done by the state in the case of soldiers.

Applications for scholarships are to be sent to Dr. Louis Wardfield, 79 Wisconsin street, Milwaukee, after they have been countersigned by the chairman of the county council of defense in the locality where the young women reside. At this time a class is ready to begin training on July 1 at Milwaukee, and it is hoped that very soon afterward other classes may begin training in other hospitals, more than a dozen of which have already signified their willingness to help in the work.

UNIVERSITY PLANS PURCHASE OF LAND

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., June 13.—A total of $184,500 for land and building improvements is allowed for the university for the coming biennium, according to the report of bills from the finance committee of the legislature. Of this sum $77,500 is available during the coming year and $107,000 for the following fiscal year. The recommended appropriation for land purchases during the coming biennium is $65,000, of which $50,000 is available on July 1, 1917, and $15,000 on July 1 following. The land bill provides for the purchase of the following property:

1. Forty-five thousand dollars for the Raymer property on Langdon street. The university has held option upon this property for four years. The building situated upon this land at the present time is being used as an infirmary by the university.
2. Kempf property, $15,000. This represents the solid piece of property now owned by the university between the agricultural hall and University avenue. At the time the budget request was made the university had no option on this particular piece of land.
3. Lot 5, block 5, Brooks' addition to the university, next to the heating station, $5,000. Lot 5 has been held under option for the past four years by the university and is used daily by the service department. This lot is absolutely needed in order that the university may have adequate entries and exits to the service building and for proper facilities for painting and other utility departments.

The University Infirmary.—The bill carried an appropriation of $50,000 on July 1, 1918, for the construction of an infirmary.

This request was presented to the 1915 legislature, but no appropriation was made at that time. The present infirmary facilities consist of twenty-five beds in the Raymer homestead on Langdon street. The operation of this infirmary enables the students to receive adequate care at a much lower cost to them than is possible in the city hospitals. The present infirmary has been repeatedly filled to a capacity on account of minor epidemics. It is proposed to construct a fireproof unit for this purpose as part of the development of the university clinic.

JOHN BULL URGES KITCHEN ECONOMY

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
London, June 3.—The government, appealing to the women of England to practice economy in the kitchen, published a circular for distribution to all women, which says: "The British fighting line shifts and extends, and now you are in it. The struggle is not only on land and sea it is in yourarder, your kitchen, and your dining room. Every meal you serve is now literally a battle. Every well cooked meal that saves bread and wastes no food is a victory. Our men are fighting the Germans on land and sea. You can beat them in the larder and kitchen."

PLANTS 400 ACRES WITH BEANS FOR UNCLE SAM.

Lincoln, June 13.—Four hundred acres planted to beans is the "bit" recently done by E. Swablander, a Cheyenne county farmer, to help Uncle Sam win the war. He used nearly four tons of beans as seed. It cost him $1,286. With a normal crop he will raise enough beans to furnish every man, woman and child in his county with a bushel of beans, and enough left over to feed twice the population of his county for a year.

I made all my money by nevering at the bottom and never selling at the top.—Lord Rothschild.

Frank Gilhooley expects to celebrate the Fourth of July by getting back into the Yankees' battle line.
